

Attachment Disorders

Learning Difficulties

struggles with basic literacy and maths immature speech

may have delays when learning new things

Relationships

difficulty being friends with peers

can be clingy

aggressive

hostile to parents

resists affection

possibly experienced abuse or neglect

affectionate to strangers

Attachment Disorders

lack of conscience

maintains eye contact while lying

no remorse for actions

Behaviour

very impulsive

doesn't consider consequences for actions steals

questions everything

destructive behaviour

towards property

towards themselves

towards others

Obsessions

possible fascinations with violence or death

weapons

blood

gore

may have issues with food

gorging

hiding food

hoarding